A replacement unit will be shipped out to the customer on the next business day (Singapore Time) after ANTI labs receives the faulty unit. The replacement unit may be new or refurbished at the discretion of ANTI labs.

The customer is responsible for backing up, properly storing configuration files, and implementation of those settings on the replacement hardware. The replacement system will be new or refurbished at the discretion of ANTI labs.

ANTlabs will use reasonable effort to ship out the replacement unit. However, response time may vary, subject to local customs regulations or replacement unit availability.

5.4 Advanced Hardware (HW) RMA

This is an enhancement to standard hardware RMA, which improves the turn-around time for the customer.

Under this option, the customer can report a faulty hardware unit to ANTI labs support. Upon confirmation of the hardware fault, the RMA process will be triggered. A replacement unit will be shipped out to the customer on the next business day (Singapore) after ANTI labs receives the completed signed RMA request form before 16:00 (Singapore Time) Monday to Friday¹. The replacement unit may be new or refurbished at the discretion of ANTI labs.

The customer is responsible for backing up, properly storing configuration files, and implementation of those settings on the replacement hardware. The faulty unit must be returned to ANTI labs' authorized distributor within twenty (20) days. If not, the full purchase price will be charged to the customer.

5.5 NBD (Next Business Day) Onsite Servicing

This is an advanced hardware replacement/servicing option whereby replacement parts and our support engineer are sent to the customer site on the next business day upon confirmation of RMA. This support option can place a certified engineer at the customer's location the next business day (local), after completion of troubleshooting when ANTI labs support accepts and logs a system hardware fault before 15:00 (local time) Monday to Friday, subject to parts availability. Service is performed on-site at the customer's location and is available Monday - Friday from 9:00 to 17:00 excluding normally observed local holidays.

The End User information (customer name, address, contact number) must be present to activate this level of RMA. Refer to the ANTI labs Support Portal or Appendix A for a sample of the form. Incorrect or incomplete information about the End User will result in this service delivery and may affect the promised service level agreement.

In addition, this level of RMA service is only applicable to products purchased in the specific supported countries and will not apply to parallel-imported units. For example, for a unit purchased in the US, onsite support can only be provided to an address in the US. Refer to ANTI labs Support Portal or Appendix B for the most current list of supported countries. For countries not in the supported list, the support level will fall back to the Hardware RMA (replacement) option detailed above.

All claims filed for hardware units that fail will be repaired at the discretion of ANTI labs. RMA parts/components receive a sixty (60) day hardware warranty or the remainder of the original hardware warranty or active maintenance contract, whichever is longer.
